Expenses Example

The example below is intended to help investors compare the cost of investing in the Core Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds.

The example assumes an investor invests $10,000 in the Core Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeems all shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes that the investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Although actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions an investor's costs would be:

	1 year	3 years	5 years	10 years
	$123	$384	$665	$1,466

Portfolio Turnover Rate

During the most recent fiscal year, the Core Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 13% of the average value of its portfolio. When consistent with best execution, the Fund buys and sells securities through Saturna Brokerage Services, Inc. (SBS), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Saturna Capital, which presently charges no commissions on portfolio trades.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Core Fund invests in a mix of equity and debt securities. It normally invests 40% of its assets in equity securities of U.S. companies, 20% in foreign equity securities, 25% in investment-grade debt securities with maturities of three years or longer, and 15% in short-term debt securities including money market instruments and cash. The Core Fund follows a value investment style, favoring income-producing securities of larger, more seasoned companies.

Principal Risks of Investing

The value of Core Fund shares rises and falls as the value of the securities in which the Fund invests goes up and down. Only consider investing in the Fund if you are willing to accept the risk that you may lose money. Fund share prices, yields, and total returns will change with market fluctuations as well as the fortunes of the countries, industries and companies in which the Fund invests.

The Fund involves the risks of both equity and debt investing, although it seeks to mitigate these risks through a widely diversified portfolio that includes domestic stocks, foreign stocks, short and long-term bonds, and money market instruments. Security prices are subject to market risk, and common stocks in particular may be subject to price declines that are steep, sudden, and/or prolonged. International investing involves risks not normally associated with U.S. securities. These include fluctuations in currency exchange rates, less public information about securities, less governmental market supervision, and lack of uniform financial, social, and political standards. Foreign investing heightens the risk of confiscatory taxation, seizure or nationalization of assets, currency controls, or adverse political or social developments that affect investments.

Bonds have interest rate risk, generally falling in price when rates increase. The longer a bond's maturity, the more sensitive the bond is to interest rate changes. Bonds also entail credit risk, which is the possibility that a bond will not pay interest or principal when due. If a bond's credit quality is perceived to decline, investors will demand a higher yield, which means a lower price.

Performance

The following bar chart and table provide an indication of the risks of investing in the Core Fund by showing changes in performance from year to year and by showing how the Fund's average annual returns compare to those of a broad-based market index. A fund's past performance (before and after taxes) is not a guarantee of how a fund will perform in the future.

Performance data current to the most recent month-end and quarter-end are available on www.sextantmutualfunds.com.

Annual Total Return

Best Quarter	Q2 2009	9.8%
Worst Quarter	Q4 2008	-9.2%

Average Annual Total Returns

for periods ended December 31, 2010

	1 Year	5 Years	10 Years
Return before taxes	8.61%	N/A	N/A
Return after taxes on distributions	8.17%	N/A	N/A
Return after taxes on distributions and sale of Fund shares	5.72%	N/A	N/A
Dow Jones Moderate Portfolio Index (reflects no deduction for fees, expenses or taxes)	13.84%	5.09%	6.00%

After-tax returns are calculated using the historical highest individual federal marginal income tax rates but do not reflect the impact of any state or local taxes. Actual after-tax returns depend on an investor's tax situation and likely differ from those shown. After-tax illustrations are not relevant to retirement plans, corporations, trusts, or other investors that are taxed at special rates. In loss periods, the average after-tax total return may be higher than average annual total return because of an assumed deduction of losses from other income.

Payments to Broker-Dealers and Other Financial Intermediaries

If you purchase the Core Fund through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary (such as a bank or investment adviser), the Fund and its related companies may pay the intermediary for the sale of Fund shares and related services. These payments may create a conflict of interest by influencing the broker-dealer or other intermediary and your salesperson to recommend the Fund over another investment. Ask your salesperson or visit your broker-dealer or other financial intermediary's website for more information.
